

BIOTURM® Information

BIOTURM special features

BIOTURM products combine old traditional knowledge with new, natural, scientifically sound production procedures. This leads to unique, very effective and well-tolerated products corresponding to the requirements of strained or problematic skin.

The basis is an fermented organic whey which is produced by means of a patent procedure: Lactic acid bacteria are added to whey from controlled organic cultivation and fermented during a controlled procedure. Milk proteins and milk sugar are degraded to amino acids, lactic acid and their salts. The fermented organic whey (= lacto intensive active complex) serves as a basis for all BIOTURM products (except Bio-Melkfett No. 34 and silver products).

The advantage of the fermented organic whey (= lacto intensive active complex) are the plenty of ingredients which can be found in a very similar form also in the natural skin milieu: whey proteins, amino acids, lactic acid and their salts, mineral salts, micronutrients, carbohydrates, vitamins.

The precious oils used in BIOTURM products come from controlled organic cultivation or wild collection. Next to traditional ingredients, other ingredients are used which have a verifiable positive effect on skin or problematic skin like e. g. carbamide, provitamin B5 or silver.

All BIOTURM products are of course without preservatives, colourings, paraffin oils and PEG. Some products are free of scent and therefore very suitable for allergic persons. Many products contain Vanilla planifolia and bergamot oil (quantity below legal duty of declaration) which are also well compatible.

BIOTURM products can be used in many fields of care – depending on the product either for normal or slightly dry skin up to very dry, neurodermatitis skin. It can be used in a preventive way for sensible skin e. g. for babies and children but also for aged skin problems.
